

OFFICERS OF THE INDIANA PHILOSOPHICAL
ASSOCIATION

---

DANIEL SOMMER ROBINSON, President
Indiana University

ELIJAH JORDAN, Vice-President
Butler University

CARROLL DEWITT HILDEBRAND, Secretary-Treasurer
DePauw University

INDIANA
PHILOSOPHICAL ASSOCIATION

SPRING MEETING 1933

DEPAUW UNIVERSITY
GREENCASTLE, INDIANA
SATURDAY, APRIL 1

Program

9:30-12:00

GENERAL INFORMATION

- I. The Possibility of Measuring Philosophical Ideas.
Professor Harold T. Davis,
Indiana University.
  - II. The Promethean Faith of Professor Montague.
Dean Frederick D. Kershner,
Butler University School of Religion.
  - III. An Interpretation of Religion as a Function of Personality.
Professor Leo V. Barker,
Hanover College.
  - IV. The Spirit of World Politics.
Professor D. S. Robinson,
Indiana University.
- Luncheon, followed by an address on Philosophy in Indiana
by President William Lowe Bryan, of Indiana University.
- 9:30-4:30
- I. The Linguistic Structure of Knowledge.
Dr. A. F. Bentley,
Introduced by Professor Harold T. Davis.
  - II. The Present Status of Philosophy of Law,
Professor Elijah Jordan,
Butler University.
  - III. Business Meeting of the Indiana Philosophical Association.

Upon arrival in Greencastle members and guests are asked to go to the Faculty Room in the Administration Building, where the morning session is to be held. The price of the luncheon will be sixty cents and guests of members are welcome. Advanced reservations may be made by addressing Professor C. D. W. Hildebrand, of DePauw University. He will also furnish any other information you may desire.

This program shows that Philosophy in Indiana is above par, in spite of the depression. It is hoped that all of our members will be present and that they will invite anyone interested. Let us make this the best meeting we have had. It will do you good to renew your acquaintances with your colleagues and others who are interested in philosophy. We need your presence and you need the stimulus you will get from attending.

Since our membership is small we especially urge members to invite guests, and to make recommendations of properly qualified persons who might like to become members. Seniors majoring in philosophy and graduate students of philosophy are especially welcome.

Ample opportunity will be given for discussions of each paper. You are invited to take part in the discussion and to contribute in any way that you can to the success of the meeting.